JOIN OUR TEAM! Governance and Strategic Planning Consultant

a2z strategic consulting, inc. is a niche firm situated in Laval, Quebec, focusing on customized strategic development, implementation and innovation with a range of clients, including: First Nations communities, education school boards and private schools, small businesses, federal and provincial governments, and non-profits. We are looking to add to the team a Governance and Strategic Planning Consultant who is responsible for working with our team and clients on policy development and all aspects of the strategic planning process.

Working under the general guidance of the CEO, the consultant will collaborate with the team to write policy, provide feedback on policy drafts and draft policies, as required. In addition, the consultant will work with clients to develop strategic plans and support their implementation.

With multiple parts of projects on your plate at any given time, you can expect to be doing something different every day. You are a: FLEXIBLE, dynamic, hands-on person with a critical eye for detail and outside-the-box thinking. You have experience with project management with remote teams and are a competent writer. You thrive on taking the lead on projects and can navigate with ease across all functions of our business. You work well in small virtual teams but are highly independent, as well. You are able to travel to Cornwall, Ontario a few days a month.
